

Kentucky State Lodge Fraternal Order of Police Newsletter

No Cost Training Opportunity - Critical Employee Emergency Planning
9-14-2010

Greetings!

Critical Employee Emergency Planning

Course Description: The one-day training provides key information that employers, employees and their families must have to prepare for any of the 15 Department of Homeland Security planning scenarios which include natural disasters and nuclear, biological, chemical, radiological, and cyber attacks. The topics discussed include: Preparing first responders to care for their families while remaining "on the job" through evacuation, quarantine, and other critical incidents; Developing a personal communications plan and procedures; Identifying and entering into mutual aid relationships with "sister" agencies; and Providing information on federal and non-profit sector support services available for prevention, protection, response and recovery.

Target Audience:

Managers, Planners, Trainers, and Persons with Policy Responsibility in Public Safety (Law Enforcement, Fire, EMS, Rescue), Medical Community, Schools, Banking and Finance, Chemical and Industrial Facilities, Utilities, Food and Agriculture, National Monuments, Postal and Shipping, Telecommunications, Transportation, and Defense Industries.

Cost:

This no-cost training is provided by Gulf States Regional Center for Public Safety Innovations (GSRCPPI) and is supported by the US Department of Homeland Security

Host Agency:

National Crime Prevention Institute, University of Louisville & The St. Matthews
Police Department

Date

: November 8, 2010

Time

: 8:00 AM-5:00 PM

Location

: St. Matthews Community Center, 310 Ten Pin Lane, Louisville, KY 40207

Local Contact

: NCPI Phone (502) 852-8577, ncpi@louisville.edu

Register Online at: www.GSRCPI.org OR www.louisville.edu/ncpi